ALL FOR THE LOVE OF DUKE !

DISCUSSIONS - ADDITIONS - CORRECTIONS

● SALUTE TO LABOR (see DEMS87/1-2): This Labor Day 1941 broadcast is most interesting because Duke brought some of the prime vocalists in the show along with him to the studio. I don't know who the "Jump For Joy" choir, who they were. BUT I do know who sings on 'Rocks In My Bed'. It is the great blues singer Big Joe Turner whose speciality number in "Jump For Joy" was 'Rocks In My Bed'. I knew this from the time I aquired the broadcast. Apparently the DEMS reviewer was completely unaware of this.

(Valburn)
DEMS: 'Rocks In My bed' was not on the original program but added rather late.

Aasland: The choir consists of Louise Jones, Ed-dievies Flenoury, Evelyn Burrwell, Gladys Dent, Edward Short, Bene Grene, Lawrence Harris, Roy Glenn, though I don't beleive them all to have been brought to the broadcast studio - nevertheless perhaps of some interest.

● "WEST INDIAN DANCE" (see DEMS87/1-2): Jack Tower's question about Rex Stewart's being present on the RCA Victor version of "West Indian Dance" and the DEMS note that he is NOT listed on the recording sheet: Jack Tower is NOT necessarily wrong - recording sheets occasionally are in error. (Examples: RCA Victor sheets list Bruce Hudson (tpt) instead of Don Anderson on "Beautiful Eggs", and Bruce Hudson (tpt) and Frank Leithner (p) on "The Fuehrer's Face" instead of actually Don Anderson and Stan Wrightsman, both recordings by Spike Jones. Spike Jones is a far cry from Ellington, but these examples do show that recording sheets aren't infallible. (Sears)

DEMS: You are so right - there are many more examples. But a little but remains: We all know Ray Nance to be unbelievable in adopting phrases, at-tacing, and sound adjusting to performances like anyone else's in the trumpet section. Aasland once observed this surprising talent during a chase chorus on "Perdido", shared between Ray and Rolf Ericson, then a newcomber in the band. Rolf's rather strange style was adopted by Ray giving the surprising sen-sation there is not a chase but only one soloist during the choruses.

Other circumstances has been discovered disturbing the reability of orchestra personnel during recording sessions, one being a band member at the time not a member of the union, instead replaced by a "clean" name, or simply left out.

● 17Dec44 broadcast (see DEMS87/1-6, item 44-43): This Sunday afternoon (4:30-5:00PM) bc was sponsored by RCA Victor. The studio orchestra probably was Jay Blackton's orchestra. (Sears)

Aasland: The time given was E.W.T. DESOR states "DE acc. by Jay Blackton Orchestra and Unknown Choir". The late Joe Igo believed "Somebody Loves Me" to be recorded the same date, though not on the same occasion as above.

● "THE DIRECTORY OF DE'S RECORDINGS": The supplement to the directory is now in the works and we hope to have it printed during the summer of 1987. We are adding listings on audio cassettes, eight-track tapes, reel to reel tapes and also 8 and 16mm film as well as video cassettes (all formats). This first attempt of such a listing is not meant to be complete by any means. We would appreciate col-lectors in Europe, South America, Japan and Au-stralia for their help in sending along information of the cassettes in their collections. Please send such information to: Jerry Valburn, 17 Eva Lane, Plainview, NY 11803, USA. You will all be rewarded for your contributions. (Valburn)

● The 19Mar45 broadcast (see DEMS87/1-7, item 45-9): The famous Hollywood spot Billy Berg's is mistakenly printed as Billy Bird's. (Sears / Hallström)

DEMS: Please correct!

THE ELLINGTON SOLOISTS

(12) DUKE ELLINGTON and JIMMY BLANTON

For the final 32 bars of this work, Ellington re-turned to the familiar A-A-B-A formula of the popu-lar song (a favourite starting point of his) - or nearly so, since the second 8 bars (97 to 104) show a departure from the main tune in favour of what amounts to a simple pointing-up of the under-lying harmonic progression (so, the formula is mo-dified to A-Al-B-A).

Now that the score of this performance is complete what more can be said about this magnificent Ducal miniature, other than to be forever grateful that this particular session happened at all? It has been a pleasure to coax these joyous jazz sounds on paper. Really, I suppose, here we had a full orchestra of only two players! Power, precision, propulsion and poise personified to be sure

This DEMS tape is especially composed by Sjeff Hoefsmit and Benny Aasland, to be presented at the ELLINGTON '87 CONFERENCE at The Inn On The Park, Toronto, Canada.

Side A

We will begin in 1939, when a special shortwave broadcast took place coming from CBS in the US shortly before Duke and the band were off to Europe. The target for this broadcast was BBC in Britain, and we have chosen the final selection:

HARMONY IN HARLEM & Broadcast close NYC 15 March 39

While in Europe a one month tour was made in Sweden. Duke celebrated his 40th Birthday in Stockholm. Congratulation festivities all day from early morning to long after the twin concerts given at the Stockholm Concert Hall. There was also a broadcast, from which remain a few selections, one being an Ellington arrangement of a Swedish popular tune of the day, "En Röd Liten Stuga". An incomplete version has earlier been available on LP, interrupted after the Ivie Anderson vocal. For the first time you will now enjoy the full sequence:

IN A LITTLE RED COTTAGE BY THE SEA Stockholm 29 April 39
Between sets there was a broadcast interview. From this we've included the following fragment:

ELLINGTON INTERVIEW fragment Stockholm 29 April 39

Just before this European tour Billy Strayhorn was added to the Ellington organization as singer and lyricist. When Duke returned back home he found Billy was no longer a vocalist but an arranger. An eight year step in time and a hardly known recording, if earlier known at all, from "Ellington Season 102-A" finds Billy at the piano and a small unit consisting of Harold Baker, Ray Nance, Russell Procope, Jimmy Hamilton, Fred Guy and Oscar Pettiford:

DOUBLE RUFF Early or mid 1947

Another step in time, and back to Europe, to Italy. After a Milan concert actor Victor Grassman visited Duke backstage and a very improvised thing took place. Mr. Grassman and Duke performed:

HAMLET'S MONOLOGUE Milan 30 January 66

Going across the border to the French Cote d'Azur we retain the Shakespearean spirit in the next portion. Here are three selections from Duke/Billy's "Shakespearean Suite" as presented at a 4 day Juan-les-Pins Jazz Festival, famous outdoor events:

SUCH SWEET THUNDER Antibes 28 July 66

HALF THE FUN

MADNESS IN GREAT ONES

On the last day of a series of lectures and concerts during an "Ellington Week" in Madison, Wisconsin, there was among other things the "UWIS SUITE" performed. We all already know of this suite from the Pablo release with the recording made in New York on October 5th 1972 - but here comes the real thing:

DUKE INTRODUCTION (portion) Madison 21 July 72

LOCO MADI

KLOP

As "Klop" comes to a full stop through the hands of Rufus Jones you've experienced another fascinating journey in sounds and things in company with Duke and his men. Further astonishing things are to be enjoyed on the next side.

Side B

To go back in time with material from the Danish broadcasts is no problem as long we don't have to go further back than 1956. But before we leave, let's look around in 1972.

One of the last giants who joined the band was Harold Ashby. He is invited for the Toronto conference, but on this moment it is not sure whether he can make it. It seems he has other commitments in Europe.

In the same session when the "UWIS SUITE" was recorded (as later released on Pablo), he recorded:

CHINOISERIE NYC 5 October 72

Another studio recording of a beautiful ballad, played by Harold Ashby in almost every concert:

I CANT GET STARTED NYC 23 November 68

We go now back to 1966 and stay there for a while, to enjoy parts of the remarkable concert, Duke gave at the Coventry Cathedral. This concert has been telecasted on April 10, 1966. But in the telecast our first selection was missing. Thanks to the Danish Radio, here it is:

COME EASTER Coventry 21 February 1966

TELL ME ITS THE TRUTH

WEST INDIAN PANCAKE

LA PLUS BELLE AFRICAINE

This was probably the most beautiful of all the "Africaines" we have ever heard. Sam Woodyard's contribution was great and Jimmy Hamilton was still there to do his important part.

Here we are as far back as far back goes in 1956. We stay here to enjoy eleven minutes of fine improvisation. Do you recognize the third theme of "Blutopia" in Duke's piano part?

WASHINGTON

Duke Ellington INTERNATIONAL FESTIVAL

Throughout April a series of public activities were coordinated by the Ellington Commemorative Committee to generate an increased awareness and appreciation of Duke Ellington, the man and the artist. These Ellington concerts, lectures, big band dances and live theatre were designed for the enjoyment and accessibility of all age groups and backgrounds. The Festival activities took place at locations ranging from Western Plaza, downtown, to the Ellington School for the Arts, to the Washington Cathedral, and more. Among events: Clark Terry led All-Star "Show Of Shows" salute to Ellington with, among others, Anita Moore. Duke arrangements were exclusively used. There were radio broadcasts from various events such as "Cotton Club Nite" (WRC-AM) including excerpts from The Cotton Club Revue. Among films shown: "On The Road With Ellington". There were 3 more days with Ellington films. An Ellington Piano Concert was performed at the Ellington Theatre in the DE School of the Arts, and more concerts. Many lectures took place. There was an Unveiling Of Ellington Mural. Among theatre activities the Discovery Theatre produced "Take The A Train", and there was a Sacred Concert at the Washington Cathedral. A WDCU-FM broadcast showcased many Jazz Ensembles, June Norton and Jimmy McPhail included. Presidential and Mayoral proclamations in connection with unveiling and dedication of a commemorative plaque.

ADDITIONS/... (ctd.)

AFRS "JUBILEE"-117 (see DEMS87/1-7, item 45-6): This transcription was "assembled" (mastered) on January 18th; therefore, it could not have been recorded in February 1945. Comes from DE appearances on Monday night Jubilee shows (from one or two of these one hour shows - probably of January 1, 8 or 15, 1945). (Sears)

The 19Mar45 bc (see DEMS87/1-7, item 45-9): Change the spelling Singelton to Singleton. I'm puzzled by "Rolio Garber" - could this be drummer Rollie Culver? (Sears) Aasland: The name is Rollo Graber, as given on page 7 - at least the name is given so on the sleeve to my acetates in my collections. He is not a drummer.

BASIN STREET BLUES: This unissued Capitol performance which also appears on UTD-2009, I now realize that there is a second trumpet on the recording who can be heard behind Nance's vocal. I believe the trumpet to be either Clark Terry or Harold Baker. We apologize for the tremendous echo to be found there. These were on the reference source material and could not be removed. SAD NEWS

Eddie Lambert died March 12, 1987. He was 56 years old. He had a very short but painful terminal disease. His many friends carried his body to the grave on March 18th. Together with Elaine, each of us has now to pay the highest and ultimate price for having been blessed with Eddie's friendship: never to enjoy his company anymore. Apart of countless precious and joyful memories, he has left us the manuscript of the first real standard work about Duke's music. He knew before he died that it will be published. We are not only looking forward to read his book but also very proud to be able to say: G. E. Lambert? He was my friend! (Sjer Hoefsmit)

We mourn Eddie Lambert who died of cancer in Oldham on March 12 at the age of 56. His sudden and unexpected passing saddens us all. To Elaine, we extend our deepest sympathy and hope she will derive some measure of comfort from the outpouring of love from their many friends. Eddie was to have presented a paper at Ellington '87 and we looked forward to the pleasure of his company. I recall how in Newark Eddie persuasively and winningly urged the Toronto delegates to hoast this year's conference. We shall pay him tribute and miss his presence. All who knew Eddie are indebted to him for his manifold contributions as a lover of music and a human being. (Eileen Ward)

Eddie, our long long time DEMS member has suddenly left us. Eddie, who was born in Oldham, lived there all his life, where he founded the Oldham Jazz Society (1950). He became chairman of the Manchester Jazz Society (1965). Besides his contributions to a variety of jazz mags, he wrote numerous liner notes for a great many LP's. He was perhaps internationally first recognized when his first book "Duke Ellington" was published. Discographically he was always ready to lend a helping hand. Many new friends, along with numerous old ones, will remember him as the organizer and chairman of "Ellington '85", and he was expected to take part in the "Ellington '87" Toronto meeting. All DEMS members together with myself mourn Eddie's death. His long life companion, Elaine Norsworthy, will continue the DEMS membership. Elaine can be reached under the below mentioned address. Eddie is such a great loss for all of us. (Benny Aasland)

Elaine Norsworthy, 92 Hadfield Street, OLDHAM, Lancs. OL8 3EE, England.

THE DIFFERENCE BETWEEN FACTS AND FACTS

A closer look at a recording session

Edited by Benny Aasland

● Under the heading "Things To Come" in our previous Bulletin (see DEMS87/1-4) the now released Up-To-Date 2009 lp was reviewed. Concerning the included "Charlie The Chulo" a misunderstanding occurred, mainly as a result given as facts on the RCA FXM1-7133 lp sleeve.*) However: The recordings from the session are here listed in numerical order. This, together with the scratchy and noisy reproductions misled to the wrong conclusion that some editing had been done in connection with the take -2 version. Communications from both Jerry and Steve Lasker commented on the matter. Since the circumstances concerning this recording session must be of a far wider interest I feel I must, together with Jerry and Steve, make some explanatory remarks on the session, and also to make it clear no editing work has been carried out on take -2.

● Jerry writes: "In 1939 the American record companies adopted a practice of recording the entire session of an artist on 16" acetates. This served a very good purpose for it allowed the recording company executives to listen to the entire session and then determine which take would be their first choice (-1 or -A) and a back up take (-2 or -B). Columbia records were most active in this area, but on occasion RCA-Victor also used this system. One of the few times Victor did this was the Barney Bigard session in Chicago on November 11th, 1940. The acetate safeties were discovered by John Steiner years later. Ellington specialists such as Aasland, Debroe, and myself obtained copies of this material on tape either directly or indirectly from John Steiner. When RCA in France was producing the series "Works Of Duke" they borrowed these tapes. Now the tapes actually tell us the order of recording on the recording and this is true in the case of "Charlie The Chulo". BUT RCA France then designated the recordings in a numerical sequence. This then confuses the issue because the -1 which appears on 78 and many lp issues is not the first performance. The recording ledgers for this session tell us that two takes were processed (metal parts made). So -1 was issued back in 1940 or early 1941 and the designated -2 was kept as a test pressing. The genuine take -2 is in my collection in the form of a vinyl test pressing. In addition to appearing on UTD 2009, it is also to be found in the recent Franklin Mint series. ..."

● From Steve Lasker's letter: "Jerry was kind enough to loan me his vinyl test. Pencilled onto the label is (see above) "053621-2" and "6/68", the later presumably the month and year of pressing. I ... determined that Jerry's test is the same as what is shown as take 1 on the French RCA lp. I have also noticed that the first note of music has been clipped on FXM1-7133, and that about fifteen seconds from the end, the LP appears to speed up slightly, thus ending a split second sooner than Jerry's test during dual playback. What French RCA claims is take 3, as it is apparently the third take on the acetate safety and thus the third take recorded, was issued on Bluebird B-10981, and designated as take -1. This was the first-choice take. The second to be recorded, which FXM1-7133 shows as -2 was undoubtedly waxed and instantly scrapped; there was no need to process breakdowns, and the recording sheets indicates that only two takes were processed. Thus, this breakdown survived the year 1940 only on the acetate safety. So it appears that at this period of RCA Victor's history, take numbers indicate the preference of takes, not the sequence of recording, though I should point out that what was designated as take 1 was not always the issued take. ..."

● In addition Jerry writes: "I have never spliced or faked a recorded performance in my many productions. If there is any exception to this rule, Jack Towers and I edited out the Gonsalves' solo on Diminuendo In Blue-Crescendo In Blue on the souvenir record of Ellington '87. ..."

● Hoefsmit comment: I have never stated that JERRY have edited two takes in order to repair a false start. I simply concluded it had been done. There is no doubt that the take on Up-To-Date is the same as the first (chronologically mentioned) take, except there is something missing on the RCA lp, as well as in the complete copy of the safety acetates. This is confirmed by Steven and by the information Benny recently sent me. It looked quite reasonable that someone could have used this "take -1" (having a false start) and take -2 (having no value as a breakdown) thus making a perfect alternate take.

● Aasland: As a whole the above reflects an interesting episode displaying the difference between facts and facts in material at hand for discographical research efforts. The sequence problems are however no news to our members. We have several times before enlightened everybody answering questions on the matter in the Bulletin (for instance see DEMS83/13-8).

As being responsible for the contents in our Bulletin, I am the one to be blamed could anyone of our readers misunderstand the comment in the previous Bulletin on the take -2 matter as being an "insult" on Jerry!
